

Media Release forms were not required since photos have been blurred to avoid students and adults from being identified.