

Call for Chapter Proposals

Book Title: The GLOBE Program: From Observation to Action—Connecting Youth, Educators, and Scientists

Editors: Teresa J. Kennedy, PhD, and Michael R. L. Odell, PhD

Publisher: Springer Nature

We invite chapter proposals for an edited volume exploring the global impact of the GLOBE Program. The book will highlight how students, educators, and scientists engage in meaningful investigations of Earth's systems, contributing to both environmental understanding and scientific research. This volume will feature chapters that reflect diverse perspectives and experiences with the GLOBE Program, showcasing best practices in environmental education, citizen science, and school-based research. We welcome proposals from educators, program coordinators, researchers, and science partners who have been involved with GLOBE at the local, national, or international level.

Suggested Themes (not limited to): Implementation of GLOBE protocols in formal classrooms or informal settings; Student research symposia and youth-led investigations; Scientific collaborations between students, teachers, and scientists; Teacher professional development through GLOBE; Community engagement and citizen science efforts; Climate and environmental literacy development; Transdisciplinary or culturally responsive approaches to science education; GLOBE's contribution to curriculum innovation or global initiatives; Lessons learned from regional campaigns or international collaborations, etc.

Proposal Guidelines: Please submit a 250–300-word chapter proposal/abstract including:

- Chapter Title
- Summary of key themes, context, and contributions
- Author(s) name(s), affiliation(s), and a brief bio (100 words per author)
- Contact email for lead author

Expected Timeline: If you're interested, please let us know anytime between now and September 1, 2025.

- Proposal submission deadline: [September 1, 2025]
- Notification of acceptance: [September 19, 2025]
- Full chapter submission: [January 16, 2026]
- Peer review feedback: [March 2026]
- Revised chapter submission: [May 2026]
- Expected publication: [September 2026]

Chapter Format: Final chapters should be between 4,500–6,500 words and follow APA 7th edition style. Additional guidelines will be shared with accepted authors.

Please send your chapter proposal as a Word document to [\[tkennedy@uttyler.edu\]](mailto:tkennedy@uttyler.edu) with the subject line: GLOBE Book Proposal—[Your Last Name]

We look forward to highlighting your work and celebrating the shared contributions of the GLOBE community in advancing environmental learning and scientific collaboration.
