

Do Planes Fart?

Aurora Harper

Intro

Have you ever wondered how planes fart? Well planes don't leave farts behind they actually leave contrails behind. And you could watch the contrails as they slowly disappear. How can you know if a contrail will disappear faster or not. My teacher pulled up the app flight radar 24 and we saw that there was a helicopter approaching the United states. Then we went outside and We saw three planes passing by the United states.

This is dependent on the atmospheric conditions surrounding the aircraft. If the air around the plane is very dry, the ice crystals will turn back into water vapor and disappear within a few minutes.

However, humid air causes the ice crystals to remain and may even spread out, leaving a wider and longer lasting contrail that may be indistinguishable from naturally occurring cirrus clouds.

Body

Do planes leave contrails behind?

Well yes they do leave contrails behind because whenever planes fly by they leave contrails of the trail they left. Here are some images of contrails

you see this picture of a contrail is really pretty because this is on A beautiful sunset and the contrail is colored pink because it is just so lovely to look at.

Pls go to the next picture and read
The little caption on the bottom of the picture

here you see a plane flying by because it is leaving a contrail behind when it flies by the sky. Anyway it is just super cool to look at the one contrail.

Contrails are just sooo beautiful when the plane leaves them behind. I don't know why but they are just so cool to look at. And you see that this sky is surrounded by Contrails and their Super duper cool.

Research:

<https://www.flightradar24.com/UAL984/3338997b>

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/contrails-and-chemtrails-frequently-asked-questions/contrails#:~:text=If%20the%20air%20around%20the,from%20naturally%20occurring%20cirrus%20clouds.>

Conclusion

In the end, planes are amazing to see at an air show. When I was little I went to an air show And it was amazing to see the planes do cool designs with the contrails. And the tricks were so amazing they did all kinds of tricks but it is hard to remember all of the tricks that they did.

The End

Hope you liked my nature note