

Mixture

Eli Newland

Today I was exploring my field site and my data when something extraordinary happened .I Wondered about if there are different kinds of clouds like mixtures and today that just happened I saw an alto stats and alto cumulus with stratocumulus and somewhat hazy on the horizon and I could see a little sliver of light but I think the sky was a blue shade. So now I know it is possible for clouds to have mixtures. The Latitude is 38,95 82 longitude is -95.32 46 .It is Dec.13 my location looks like a place with trees,houses,and my school corpus christi in lawrence kansas and it sounds like birds chirping,cars beeping,and kids playing .And this is what it looks like...
